Essay

The year is 1939 and the world is beginning to turn into hell on the eastern front of Europe. Hitler's Third Reich is moving through Poland and walks right into Austria. With the take over of France and the remaining countries except, Switzerland and Italy, the Swiss being neutral and the Italians being an ally Hitler begins his hatred on the Jews and cripples and anyone who is not an Aryan race. Europe has now become a fortress from both the inside and the outside.

June 6, 1944 the Allies begin their assault on Fortress Europe with air support, ground, and naval. With General George S. Patton and General Montgomery the Allies work quickly the only thing that is stopping them is fuel and as the advance moves from the east, Hitler is attacking the west and is one of the biggest mistakes in the war not listening to his generals. Sometime around 1945 Russian advances and Allied advances Germany is lost and Hitler has nowhere to go and by the time the Russians reached Berlin Hitler had shot himself in the head and had his men take his body and burn it.

Hitler was not really educated at the age of sixteen he dropped out of school and blamed everyone for his problems. He loved reading books and that is all he would really do. The first world war came and went Hitler being decorated with tons of medals and honors. After the war he got into politics and moved his way up in power creating the Nazi party which took over in the 1930s Sometime. he also a good artist and was Jewish. The war went by and war started until 1945 when he killed himself.

In conclusion to this essay there is not much we can do but being thankful for our freedoms and to remember the lives that were lost because of one man and his rise to power. Don't only remember the Brave men of the Allies but take time to remember all the men that have died in this war because war is a terrible thing. When you hear the stories from the men and women who fought in this war take the time to listen and appreciate it because there is that man left.
